

THE PARISHES OF BRANDESTON AND KETTLEBURGH

Dear Friends

What are your hopes for Christmas? This is a very open question, I know; hope might seem an ambiguous word when it is linked to Christmas.

As children, we may have had clear ideas about what we hoped for. If asked, we might have talked about the presents that we were hoping to be given.

Now, as we look back to our childhood, it may not be the presents we remember so much as the sights, sounds and feelings of those Christmases. Such childhood experiences will have left us with positive memories, a warm home full of joy and laughter, with family traditions of food and games and doing things together. It's the sort of happiness that can make us smile now as we remember. If that is our experience, our hopes for this Christmas will be illuminated by such memories.

Yet, of course, many people's memories of previous Christmases are not just like that, and their experiences of life are more complicated. The hardness of life, its difficulties, even its tragedies, can leave a very different feeling about what many of us blandly call "the festive season."

This is why we need, for a moment or two, to think about what the real message of Christmas is, and what our hopes this Christmas might be.

For Christians at Christmastime, hope is a very big word indeed, because our hope is illuminated by the story of the stable in Bethlehem. It was a place where poverty and hardness of living might have seemed to offer no potential for happy memories. But it was a place where poverty and hardness of living encountered a new sort of hope through the life of a baby who was born to offer us the promise of a new sort of life. That's the hope that is at the heart of our faith; no wonder the shepherds were amazed and the angels sang "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to all people".

So, during the first three and a half weeks of December, as we prepare for Christmas, hear the carol singers and watch the school Christmas productions, as we send and receive cards, wrap our presents, decorate our homes and lay in our supplies of food and drink, we should also remember there is a hope that underlies all these things, the hope that God is coming among us, to reconcile the irreconcilable and to redeem what no one else can redeem.

And it is at those times and in those places where life is at its hardest that our hopes for Christmas are most relevant.

With very best wishes
Robin

CHRISTMAS SERVICES

Our Christmas services follow a familiar pattern beginning with the Christingle services which have now become traditional in our churches and continuing with carol and crib services until the joyful celebrations of midnight mass and Christmas morning eucharist. Each of the parishes will be combining one of its pre-Christmas services with a Gift service when we invite you to bring Christmas gifts which will be taken to the Ormiston Family Centre in Ipswich for distribution to needy families. Please wrap your gifts and mark them boy/girl and age of suitability. These gifts are always much appreciated by people who perhaps have less to look forward to at Christmas than we do. VU

MAISIE MEADOWS

Sadly we record the death of Maisie Meadows, aged 91 years, who died peacefully on Monday 6th October 2008 at Mills Meadow, Framlingham. Maisie had been living at Mills Meadow for three months, prior to that she was happy in her bungalow in Brook Lane. A thanksgiving for her life was held in Kettleburgh Church on Thursday 23rd October, followed by a reception at The Chequers Inn. The church was very full as many people gathered to be thankful for a lady who lived a full, faithful life, never bored, nothing was too much trouble for her. There was a family only cremation on 24th October. Maisie's ashes will be laid in Kettleburgh among the family graves.

A truly Kettleburgh lady., married in the church and living in The Hall for most of her life; her three boys Peter (sadly died a few years ago), Paul and Barry, she was proud of each one of them. Read on about her life as we thank God for Maisie.

May Hilda Blanche Meadows – an account of her life written by her family

Maisie was born May Hilda Blanche Chilvers on 19 September 1917. Her address at the time of her registration was 4 Pemberton Gardens, Islington, London.

Her Dad – Edward William Chilvers died when she was about 4, he was an insurance clerk, his grave is at Cransford Baptist Church. Her Mum – Hilda Mabel Chilvers (nee Wightman) died of TB when she was about 14, her grave is at Brandeston Baptist Church. At the time of her Mum's death they were living at, and running Kettleburgh Post Office. Maisie would get up in the early hours to sort through the post. On a Sunday they would walk twice during the day to the Chapel in Brandeston. Even at 14 she had an awful crush on William Meadows who lived opposite her in a small cottage called Stone Cottage. Will lived with his Mum, five brother and three sisters: Victor, Wilfred, Reggie, Stanley, Lesley, Daisy, Ivy and Phyllis. She would scowl at any young woman who had eyes for Will and hang on the garden gate waiting for a glimpse of him to come home from work. She would rather have suet dumplings at the Meadows' household than meat with her Mum. William was six years older than Maisie.

When her Mum died she was too young to look after herself and was sent to her Aunt and Uncle's at Romford/London. Her Aunt and Uncle did not approve of Will and they did their best to keep the pair apart, nasty letters were sent to Will, we have found these when clearing the house. When Maisie was 18 she wrote to Mother Meadows and asked her if she could come and live with the family. She had to ask approval of the boys as it was their wages that kept the house. Once she was out of the grips of her guardians Maisie moved back to Kettleburgh to live with the Meadows at Stone Cottage, with the intention of marrying Will, however on her return Will had lost most of his hair and she nearly had second thoughts!

Will and Maisie were married on 18th October 1941 at the Congregational Chapel, Brandeston. They lived at Kettleburgh Hall with the Warne sisters, after this with Mr and Mrs Derek Hill. Will died in February 1987 at the age of 74, they had had 46 years together. In October 1989 Mr Hill sold up and Maisie moved into a small two up two down in Brook Lane, Framlingham. She was there for 19 years.

Peter was born in 1942. He married late in life to Pauline, they did not have any children. Peter died on Christmas Day 2004. Peter worked with Hector and Mary Moore at the forge in Brandeston. He was a very accomplished and skilled welder, creating many wrought iron work items: gates, chandeliers etc.

Paul Charles was born in 1945. He married Margaret when quite young, they had four boys: Lee, Davey, Gary and Sam. The boys were each born 2 years apart and Maisie would go and help Maggie sort out the house and do the ironing. With so many boys there was plenty of washing and ironing. Sadly Davey died when he was 24 in a scrambling accident. Paul married again in 1987 to Gillian, they have had no children together. Paul works the land at Rookery Farm, Kettleburgh and Hernseywood Farm at Bruisyard. He has kept pigs and cattle.

In Maisie's 42nd year she found out she was pregnant again. She blamed the black nightdress which she had bought! The Meadows' men all liked their black, it was soon burnt! Never again! During this pregnancy she was very sick. Barry John was born March 1959. He married Angela in October 1985. They had two girls: Martina in October 1986 and Laura in February 1990. Maisie also helped with the house 3 days a week. This continued until almost the present day, but the balance of support changed as time went by. Maisie felt she needed to help and be the eternal mother to be of help to the family in her life.

Maisie has never driven but used to drive her moped with her sister-in-law Ivy. They would travel to Debenham and Saxmundham hence her family nick-name "Speedy". Shortly after she moved into Framlingham her moped broke down and it was thought that she was perhaps a little unsafe, she was quite deadly on corners! This was a difficult time for her to come to terms without her independence.

Maisie used to work in the mornings for several different houses in Brandeston and Kettleburgh doing housework. Her Mum had great aspirations for her to work in a shop but this only lasted on day! Maisie said she wasn't cut out for figures and only wanted to do house work! The shop was too stressful.

Maisie was known best for her family gatherings/card dos. She would entertain with the help of Ivy, probably for up to 25 people. Everyone would each have two of firsts and 2 of seconds, plus tea. Even during the last 5 years she would be baking for the family.

Maisie was a kind, caring, family Mum who always had a smile. She always wanted to help the family and so would do housework and baking. Never had a bad word to say about anyone. There will be a great void in the family now she is with her "Will" and "Peter". She was independent until 6 months ago and moved into Mills Meadow in July. They said she always laughing and a jolly soul there. She was very happy at her new home.

May she rest in peace.

We send our sympathy and our love to Paul, Barry and their families, and a prayer that they may know God's comfort. GV

Thank you to all cyclists who took part, all those who spent an hour at the church signing cyclists in and especially those who sponsored us. Thank you. Pat Peck

"THE KETTLE"

John, Anne, Derek and Barbara wish to thank all the helpers who made the fifth "Kettle" such a success. We were lucky with the weather and both the buyers and sellers had a good day and were full of praise for the event. So thanks to all the car parkers, money collectors, helpers in the catering tent/BBQ and the cake-makers, and to those who helped set up and clear up.

We have made a large donation to the village hall, enabling them to go ahead with the new floor project.

See you next year for the 6th "Kettle" – on 26th July. BH

SHOEBOXES FOR ROMANIA 2008

Thank you to everyone who filled a shoebox (or more than one) for the Link Romania charity this year. In total, eighteen boxes were sent from Kettleburgh. By the time you are reading this, they will be well on their way to their destination – a family in Romania.

Simple items that we take for granted – shampoo, scissors, hats and gloves – will mean so much to those families who have so little, and whose lives are so hard. This year, special thanks come also from Lacri, a Romanian man I met at Brian Nobb’s home in Wickham Market. Lacri was in England for two weeks and wanted the appreciation of his people to be known to us. He will be back in Romania in time for Christmas.

ANTARCTIC ODDESSY

'A most enjoyable afternoon was had on October 12th in Brandeston Village Hall. Listening to Chris Parfitt's fascinating and humorous talk on his trip to the Southern Ocean . There was even a member of the audience who had been an engineer on one of the old whaling stations that Chris visited on South Georgia.

The ladies on the PCC provided a wonderful tea and £200 was made for The Church Fabric Fund.

BONFIRE NIGHT

With a fine night, after such awful weather recently, the bonfire night went with a swing. A huge bonfire, lots of guys in the competition and great fireworks made it was a super evening. We didn't run out of mulled wine this year and everyone was very happy as a result of that 'special' secret ingredient!

Many thanks indeed to Martin Churchill and his team for organising the fireworks and to Richard Martin, Richard Mitson-Wood and Nick Hayward for collecting materials to build the magnificent bonfire. Also thanks to the BBQ team for the excellent food .

For a small village what a splendid firework display, and all given by the families attending. Just under £100 was raised for village hall funds.

There will also be a display providing information/literature of interest to the community including adult learning opportunities, local events etc.

The Information Point should be fully operational after the Christmas break.

Chris Hutson Resignation

A sad farewell to Chris Hutson as our Vice-Chair of Governors. Chris has served on the Governing Body for a number of years and has been extremely supportive and active in moving the school forward. He has taken a keen interest in the education and learning of our pupils and was a huge success as a group leader on our residential trip to the Peak District earlier this year. Chris was our designated Local Authority appointed Governor and we are now awaiting to hear from the LA with regard to his replacement. I am sure you would like to join the staff at Easton in thanking Chris for all his hard work and wishing him all the best for the future.

CONGRATULATIONS TO LORD CUNLIFFE

Lord Roger Cunliffe has recently been awarded an Honorary Doctorate at the University of Suffolk as part of the University's first graduation; his was one of six such awards. The awarding of Honorary Doctorates played a significant role in the first university award ceremonies. "The Honorary Graduates were chosen for their contribution to life in Suffolk and further afield..."

Lord Roger Cunliffe, who has lived for many years at The Broadhurst in Brandeston, was educated at Eton, Trinity College Cambridge and the Open University. Formerly an architect, he worked for RMJM (architects for the new UCS building), designed university buildings in the USA, and was the Director of the Architectural Association and of its continuing education centre. He has served on the governing bodies of Lancing College, Goldsmith's College, and the College of Estate Management. In the crafts he has been Patron of Skillbuild (national competitions in the construction crafts), Chairman of the Suffolk Craft Society, and Prime Warden of the Goldsmiths' Company (where he remains on the governing body).

We thank Lord and Lady Cunliffe for their help and interest in community life and hope that they will continue to find fulfilment in public life. Congratulations again! GV

CHRISTMAS CARDS IN BRANDESTON

It has been suggested that instead of sending Christmas cards to friends & neighbours in Brandeston, a collection be set up where you can add your name and give a donation to the East Anglia's Children's Hospices. Alan Randall is happy for this to be set up at the Queen's Head, so look out for it at the beginning of December.'

I will be emptying your boxes early in January so now is the time to give them a shake to see how full they are!

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!

I am the Group Leader for the Cubs, Scouts and Beavers who meet in Kettleburgh Village Hall. Since we started meeting here, about 2 years ago now, we have reached the point where we have almost 50 young members of the movement using the hall. With this success comes the need for more Leaders and Helpers and are now on the look out for new volunteers.

It occurs to me that there may be people who live in the village who would like to help at our pack, colony or troop meetings. I am sending this to you to canvas your support by volunteering or passing this on to someone you think may be interested in helping. We are having a meeting at 7pm on Fri 21/11/08 at my house, Bridge Cottage, Kettleburgh Road, Fram IP13 9SD to review how we use our current leaders and helpers to best manage the sections. Anyone interested in helping would be very welcome to come along to the meeting to find out more.

There is lots of information about scouting at www.scouts.org.uk and if anyone would like to talk to me about this at any time then please call me or Steve on 723712 or mob. 07919 852239.

BRANDESTON PARISH PLAN

At the Brandeston Parish Council meeting on 12 November 2008, the Council were delighted to formally receive the Brandeston Parish Plan prepared by the Steering Group. The Council thanked the Group for their efforts in producing a superb document and were pleased to pass on the complimentary remarks of our District and County Councillors.

The Council has carried out a preliminary assessment of the document from which it is clear that the wish most strongly expressed by residents for the future is that Brandeston should remain unchanged. This will be the primary initial focus of the Council's response to the Plan. In particular, the Council will take full account of these views when responding to the Suffolk Coastal District Council Local Development Framework Core Strategy Document which will be published shortly. This latter document includes proposals for future housing developments in the Suffolk Coastal District.

However, the Council intend to react to all possible areas, within their remit and responsibilities, set out in the Plan. In view of the very considerable number of these and their very widespread coverage, the Council is seeking volunteers to assist. This is an opportunity for residents to play a significant role in keeping Brandeston the desirable place to live that the Plan shows is your overwhelming view. You can contact me on 01728-685357 or email : mark@fairfields.plus.com

The next Parish Council meeting will be held on 21 January 2009 at 8.00 pm at the village hall. All residents are encouraged to attend.

CANCER CAMPAIGN IN SUFFOLK

We would like the help of all your parishioners. We are the Cancer Campaign in Suffolk your local cancer charity we are not part of any large national charity and every penny raised, is spent in Suffolk for the benefit of local people. The charity was formed in 1998, the aims being to improve access to high quality information, prevention, education and support services to cancer patients, their families and carer's in Suffolk.

In 2004 the Cancer Campaign in Suffolk's first major project was the John LeVay Cancer Information Centre in the north end of Ipswich Hospital. The centre offers expert advice and information on all aspects of cancer and its treatment. We have recently extended our input into the centre by employing a 2nd specialist cancer nurse and 5 complementary therapists who offer free treatments to cancer patients, as well as continuing to provide the centre's running costs.

We would like to involve your local community in our charity by becoming members of our community fund raising team. We would also like the support of your community groups, organizations and clubs to consider raising funds for us in their fundraising activities. To get involved call our campaign's office 0845 602 6607 or email:karen@cancercampaigninsuffolk.co.uk

We have some very exciting future plans one of which is to provide a mobile unit that will make cancer information, prevention, education and support available in your local area. Our ambitions are huge but that's because we feel that Suffolk deserves the best so our mobile unit will be state of the art and with a professional medical team on board. We estimate the cost will be approx £1.5million (including 3 years running costs) and we hope it will offer services that Suffolk has never had available before.

If you would like to know more about the Cancer Campaign in Suffolk call our campaign's office on: tel/fax 0845 602 6607 (all calls are at a local rate call charge) or visit our website www.cancercampaigninsuffolk.co.uk.

Putting Suffolk Coastal on Screen!

With over 3,000 enquiries a year filming thrives in the East of England so how can Suffolk Coastal's residents and businesses benefit?

With Quantum of Solace flying onto the big screen on 31 October, the East of England once again landed a piece of the Bond action with Daniel Craig undergoing months of training at Bodyflight in Bedfordshire, learning how to body fly for a special effects sequence. Bedfordshire also had a starring role in the recent BBC's Dickens adaptation of Little Dorrit. So how can Suffolk Coastal's residents and businesses get involved?

The Suffolk Coastal district has recently welcomed filming for BBC's Top Gear and Dog Borstal to Bentwaters Park and has also provided a backdrop for commercials and television serials such as Britain from Above, A Picture of Britain, Coastal Kitchen, The Inspector Lynley Mysteries and The Secret of Eel Island. The county of Suffolk has starred in a number of feature films such as Golden Globe nominees Tomorrow Never Dies (1997) and Eyes Wide Shut (1999) and the Oscar winning Iris (2001). Interestingly the director of The Chronicles of Narnia: The Lion, Witch and the Wardrobe (2005), also an Oscar winner, digitally surveyed Kentwell Hall to recreate it as the Professor's house! Screen East, the government funded regional screen agency, receives over 3,000 enquiries a year from productions looking for locations, crew and services. During 2007/08 an estimated £22.9 million was spent in Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire, Essex, Hertfordshire, Norfolk and Suffolk. However, only £825,500 was actually spent in Suffolk. Suffolk Coastal, the County Council and Ipswich Borough Council have therefore formed partnerships with Screen East through service level agreements. By working collectively, the aim is to support Screen East in sourcing new locations and service providers to attract more productions to film on location in Suffolk. Whilst productions are often based at a studio, many seek locations ranging from houses or flats, to barns, warehouses, shops, churches, schools, farms, retail parks, hotels and B&Bs – the lists go on!

Location filming can provide a valuable boost to the local economy through location fees and the purchase of local services, but if a film or television drama proves popular, it can encourage tourism. More and more viewers are visiting locations open to the public which appear on screen. For example, Stephen Fry's Kingdom which is shot almost entirely on location in Norfolk and supported by Screen East and Norfolk County Council, is actively bringing visitors to the county.

If your community would like to benefit, Screen East is seeking new locations of all types and conditions. They are particularly interested in large, period or ultra contemporary houses, vacant or derelict industrial buildings and replicas of London or northern streets, but if you think you have, or know of, a location that might be worthy of the big or small screen contact Screen East. They'd also like to hear from companies that can supply services to a film crew such as dry cleaners, florists, wood suppliers and cleaning companies. TIMES PAST

The Hearth Tax was levied from the Spring of 1662 until the Spring of 1689. In other words from the 14th year of the reign of Charles II, through the 4 years reign of James II, being abolished in the 1st year of the reign of William and Mary. It was a most unpopular demand for money.

In Suffolk we still have the returns for 1674, the 26th reign year of Charles II. These records are important to local historians as they provide an indication of the size of each assessed house at the time.

The tax, paid by the occupier not the landlord, was two shillings for each fire hearth or stove, which was collected at Lady Day, March 25th and Michaelmas, September 29th.

Exempt from payment were those in receipt of poor relief, those inhabiting houses worth less than 20 shillings per annum, or charitable institutions, such as almshouses or schools. Blacksmiths and bakers were liable to pay.

Brandeston had to pay for a total of 97 hearths in the houses of 30 parishioners. These included 9 belonging to Henry Stebbing, gentleman which would be the Priory and 4 in the Vicarage, now the Broadhurst where the Reverend Nicholas Candler lived. There were 16 at Brandeston Hall in the occupation of William Knights. No mention is made of the Revett family who owned the property at that time. During the period round 1674 three marriages of Revetts took place in Brandeston but all these were recorded as living at Dennington. The only reference to Knights in the registers is the baptism in 1673 of Rose to William and Joan Knights. If only we knew more!

Nine exempt poor were named with 10 hearths between them, while the 'alms houses' with 5 hearths were also free from liability.

Kettleburgh had a total of 62 hearths in the houses of 22 parishioners. The largest number of 6 were in the residence of Francis, the surname being unreadable through the age of the document. 5 hearths were in the occupation of John Dawson. He and his wife Sarah Dawson had three children baptised in Kettleburgh during the 1670's, so they were resident for some time in the village but that is all that has been discovered about them. The Reverend Jacob Chilton who lived at the Rectory, now Holly House, had 4 hearths.

'John Jennings' forge is recorded. This must be the John Jennings who, with Alice his wife, had two children baptised in 1669 and 1674. Later in 1679, as a blacksmith, he made a will while he still lived in Kettleburgh.

Twelve villagers with a total of 16 hearths had a 'Certificate of Poverty'. There was no almshouse. However, it all makes interesting reading and helps to give some idea of life in the two parishes 334 years ago.
