Happy New Year

THE PARISHES OF BRANDESTON AND KETTLEBURGH

Dear Friends,

I wonder if anyone still makes New Year Resolutions? or does everyone now think resolutions are just plain stupid and post a message on 'Facebook' instead.

But what if we're of the 'lets take making new year resolutions seriously persuasion'. Well we probably write them in order to make life better in some way, for ourselves or for other people, like going to the gym more often, or in my case taking up pilates, or how about promising yourself you will try a church service or two during the year (you can be sure of a warm welcome), or how about perhaps helping others by giving more to good causes.

These resolutions then become a great way of helping us plan for the short term future, using them as a means to not put off until tomorrow the decisions which we know we need to make right now.

So as we stand on the threshold of 2012, each of us with our own unique feelings of expectation, or apprehension, excitement, uncertainty, while for others there may simply be a sense of relief that the old year has gone, and now is the time to just let life move on. The problem with resolutions is that they're easy to write, but even easier to break, when actually we don't have to make and fail at them all within a few short days or weeks. They don't have to be done and dusted in early January, we have the whole year in which to make new resolutions, and get to work on even just one of them.

The span of a human life is tiny in the scale of God's kingdom and every moment of it is precious – is priceless and not to be wasted on regrets, and "if only". So there's plenty of time to get out a pen and paper, or your laptop and create a new year resolution or two, and put it on the fridge magnet, or if you really must! put it on Facebook. But, before you all get busy may I take this opportunity to wish all residents of our parishes a happy and peaceful New Year

With love
Deirdre

EAST ANGLIAN CHILDREN'S HOSPICE

Unique Carol Concert being held in aid of local children's charity

St Augustine's Church in Ipswich will once again be host to a wonderful carol concert which aims to raise more than £1,000 for East Anglia's Children's Hospices.

The event, which is in its third year, takes place at 7pm on Monday December 19 and will feature the Ipswich Gospel Choir and the Sainsbury's singers as well as performances by soloists, staff and children from The Treehouse hospice.

The concert is a real mix of traditional carols, Christmas songs, poems and readings. The line up is specifically designed to represent the meaning of Christmas, with both fun elements and time for reflection at what can be a difficult time of year for some.

Talking about the event, Ray Travasso, EACH Music Therapist, said: "This is one of the highlights of my year as a music Therapist for EACH. It's a truly wonderful event and I am delighted that we have secured such brilliant acts for 2011."

Nikki Brown, EACH Fundraiser, said: "Here in the fundraising office we are very much looking forward to the Carol Service. We are incredibly grateful to Ray for putting in so much effort to secure excellent acts for this event. It will really help to bolster the fundraising for The Treehouse and carry on the support for life-threatened children and their families during the Christmas period."

PAST EVENTS

BRANDESTON CHURCH CHRISTMAS FAIR

The village hall in Brandeston was transformed to a spectacular Christmas market place on the 10th December. A steady stream of people from the village and the local area appeared, eager to add a few extra items to their Christmas shopping, while children excitedly awaited the arrival of Father Christmas with his sack of presents.

The afternoon was a great success. A total of nearly £1500 was raised- a record breaking amount for this event. This fantastic achievement was the result of much hard work by the stall holders who baked, gathered bottles and gifts and arranged Christmas greenery for weeks in advance. The inclusion of local crafts added an extra dimension to the stalls. The people of Brandeston, the school, and their friends were, as always extremely generous with their contributions of quality items for the fair.

The atmosphere in the hall was lively as people chatted, spent their money and waited in anticipation to see whether they had won prizes. All Saints' PCC would like to thank everyone who was involved in the event. The proceeds of the fair will go into Church Funds and, as the builders continue with their work on the church, every penny is much appreciated. Thank you very much!

CAROL SINGING IN KETTLEBURGH

It was cold, but it was dry, on Tuesday 20th December, when a band of ten singers, including two children and a teenager, met at the Village Hall to begin the annual singing of carols around the village. After two hours on the doorsteps of Kettleburgh houses it was high time to get warm and sing our final choruses at the Chequers. The sum of £109.79 was raised for The Children's Society. Thank you to all who took part or supported the singing of carols around the village and thanks to Debbie for providing the welcome refreshments.

NOTICES

SECURITY

Just a little thought for those of you in the village who do not receive Police Direct e-mails, or indeed the local paper. Reports of burglaries and attempted burglaries appear to be slightly on the increase (Earl Soham and Easton in particular). Please be aware of home and vehicle security, particularly at this time of year, not forgetting your barns and outbuildings which may contain valuable items."

A NEW EMERGENCY RESPONDER SERVICE IN SUFFOLK

Suffolk Careline is a new service that will enable vulnerable Suffolk residents to call for immediate assistance at the touch of a button.

Clients can have the choice of who responds to their call, either a relative or friend, or a qualified member of the Suffolk Careline staff. The service is available 24 hours a day seven days a week and aims to respond in person within 45 minutes. If the nature of the call is more serious the emergency services can also be dispatched.

The launch programme means that South and West Suffolk are now currently receiving service, with North Suffolk coming on stream on 18th December 2011. Suffolk Careline service is designed to compliment other public sector services already in operation such as the Primary Care Trusts and the East of England Ambulance Trust.

First Clients: Wayne Bennett has recently had a Suffolk Careline monitoring system installed in his elderly mothers home and said: "I want to thank Suffolk Careline for their ultra quick response in setting up a personal alarm system for my elderly mother. This service has given my mother and us as a family a great deal of comfort and peace of mind."

The service will help to increase and maintain a person's level of independence for longer. The service is suitable for anyone but will be of particular importance to:

- Older people
- People living alone
- Other vulnerable adults, as part of a care package
- Family carers that want some additional support

People interested in knowing more about the service can contact Suffolk Careline by: Email- enquiries@suffolkcareline.com or Tel: 08456007724

TIMES PAST

Little is known about a number of the clergy who lived and served in our parishes. However, sometimes a document or paper comes to light which reveals a previously unknown story. The Reverend Thomas Wilson was Vicar of Brandeston and Parham from 1724 until his death in 1753 at the age of sixty two. He was probably the son of the preceding cleric, William Wilson who as Vicar of Brandeston and Cretingham had died in April 1724.

The following statement besides establishing that Thomas Wilson had a decisive character also shows another glimpse into the life of the Reverend John Lowes:-

I, Thomas Wilson, Vicar of the parish of Brandeston in the County of Suffolk do protest against the pretended customs of the said Parish, and do refuse to sign them for the following reasons.

1st. It is certain the said Customs have not been signed by any Vicar of the said Parish for above 40 years past and I have been informed that they never were signed by any Vicar but only Mr Lowes in the year 1606 when they were agreed to, and set down in writing Indented under the Hands and Seals of Mr Lowes, and of the Chief Inhabitants, and seem to be no more than a particular Agreement between him and his Parishioners.

2^{dly}. The Custom which Prescribeth Cheese in lieu of Tythe Milk is an unreasonable custom, and may in time be claimed and insisted on to deprive the Vicar of the greatest part of his Profits arising from the Cows. The said Custom specifyeth in substance as followeth the Vicar shall have every year fifteen cheeses of every Inhabitant that maketh cheese, not exceeding ten to the weigh in the biggest Dairies, and in the smaller Dairies which cannot make them of that weight, then as large as they can make them. The weight and the number of the cheese being hereby limited, and no provision made for any alteration which may happen by joining two or more farms together whensoever that is the case the Tythe Cheeses of the Farm or Farms so added is wholly lost by this Custom, and the Farm to which they are added shall pay no more, nor larger cheese that it did before such Additions were made to it.

October 26: 1725

Thomas Wilson

Cheese seems to have been a very important part of the Tithe which represented a tenth of the annual produce. Brandeston and Kettleburgh would have been in the rich dairy pastures which disappeared when corn growing took over during the Napoleonic Wars.

Let us hope that 2010 will produce a good harvest for everyone.
