

THE PARISHES OF BRANDESTON AND KETTLEBURGH

Dear Friends

“What a lovely Church.” I hear these words used so often by people about the beautiful church in the village where they live, and used also by appreciative visitors on entering the same building for the first time.

It is true that Brandeston, Kettleburgh and Easton are particularly fortunate in having Parish Churches whose quiet beauty provides a spiritual focal point for each village community. These are buildings to which people have come and continue to come at significant moments in their lives. They are places where the deep human instincts of wonder and worship may be given expression, and where inner resources may be found at times of difficulty.

The word “church” is used to describe a building. But it is also a word that defines the group of people who share a faith; a faith whose character imperceptibly touches the wider community of which they are part. Such a “church” seeks to help people live as neighbours, and share not only the locality where they live, with its facilities and resources, but share values that translate into a sense of belonging, purpose and responsibility, enabling life to be enjoyed and celebrated by people of all ages together, in all sorts ways that mark the passing of time, the seasons and life itself. A visitor encountering such a community would be right to exclaim “What a lovely Church.”

Just as the maintenance of the fabric of our church buildings depends on the generosity and enthusiasm of all sorts of well-wishers, as well as the commitment of regular church worshippers, so also nurturing and building up the sense of neighbourliness depends on the openness and generosity of everyone in the community.

The fetes and fairs and festivals that are such features of summer in our villages, whether planned as fund-raisers or simply as celebrations, can be seen as an investment in the present and future life of our community. So also is open-hearted friendship, concern and respect, and the willingness to anticipate and help others overcome times of difficulty. Farsighted generosity of time, energy and enthusiasm for participating, building up and encouraging such community life can be seen as an investment in the future which will benefit those who live where we now live in 25 or 30 years time.

I hope you enjoy this summers’ events all the more in the knowledge that the enjoyment and fellowship they give rise to will bear fruit in village life in years to come.

With best wishes,
Robin Alderson

TREVOR DAVIES

With sadness we record the death of Trevor Davies, aged 81 years, who lived at Barking Hall Nursing Home, Needham Market, on Sunday 14th September 2008.

A service of thanksgiving, a celebration for Trevor's life, was held at Ipswich Crematorium on Friday 26th September, attended by his family and those from Brandeston who had known him. Trevor and Pauline had lived at the Gables in Mill Lane (next to the old P.O.) since 1968; sadly Pauline died a few years ago. They had two children, Zoe married to Richard with their two boys Jake and Mitchell, whilst Paul is unmarried. At the service Zoe spoke with love and affection about her father including these words "Thank you Dad for all my childhood memories, for teaching me the value of hard work, for helping me to accept my defeats and celebrate my successes, for believing in me, and for loving me for who I am"

Trevor Duval Davies 16/6/1927 – 14/9/2008

Trevor was born in Ipswich, his parents Jack and 'Nanny' lived in Princes Street. His father, in due course, was called into the RAF and posted to Malta; however Trevor won a scholarship to Ipswich High School as a boarder, aged 11, whilst his sister went to Malta. He enjoyed school and did well. After the war his parents took a pub, The Falcon, at Rushmere St Andrew. It was soon after that that he met Pauline (who was to become his wife), aged 13 and he often carried her books to Northgate School – love at first sight. Trevor became very well qualified as an Electrical Engineer at college and then was taken on by the Electricity Board; they trained him further, sent him to London and gave him responsibility to which he responded well.

Trevor and Pauline married in St Margaret's Church, Ipswich and lived at Corder Road, Ipswich, off Anglesea Road. They were very happy. Paul was born in hospital and Zoe at home but soon, after 6 years, they moved to Lingsfield in Surrey and then again to Chesterford, near Saffron Walden, with the last move in 1968 to The Gables, mill Lane, Brandeston, to a house still being built. The house was built, as others in the area, by John Tuckwell. Here began the best time in his life.

Trevor was the Managing Director of several companies all with electrical connections, two at least in Scotland specialising in transformers; a successful businessman who readily mixed with politicians and the leaders of industry. He had a house in Scotland and would often be away at weekends – the family visited him there in the summer. He could come home and lay aside the business to enjoy the family, the garden, his boating on the Deben and even the caravan, twice only as Pauline did not like it!

Trevor had been bugged from age 50 with heart attacks and later strokes, which gradually left him debilitated but he fought bravely. Few things defeated him until he had to go into Barking Hall Nursing Home, Needham Market, two years ago. As a businessman he was dedicated, fair, honest and successful; as a husband and father – loyal, loving, generous, fun and witty; in old age always uncomplaining. To Jake and Mitch, his grandsons, he was a great Grandad, interested, generous and fun. He loved Laurel and Hardy movies. He was great at DIY; he could fix anything. In fact, talking to the 'Best Man' at his wedding, I was told he still had kept going the refridgerator given to him at his wedding! Great electrician/mechanic, Trevor was a very faithful, hard-working man. In talking to Zoe he said he had 'no regrets', he had enjoyed all his career. We thank God for Trevor's life. May he rest in peace.

We send our love and sympathy to Zoe, Paul, Richard, Jake and Mitchell, with our prayers that they may know God's peace and comfort. GV

BASIL NORMAN

With sadness we record the death of Basil Norman (aged 84 years) of Chestnut Tree Farm, Friday Street, Brandeston, who died suddenly in Ipswich Hospital on Friday 22nd August 2008. Basil's wife Monica (née Branton, a Kettleburgh family) died on 18th June 2005 – since then he had lived alone at the farm. Basil and Monica had two children; Heather and Daniel, married to Sarah with their children Holly and Tom. Basil's birthday is on 21st April, he enjoyed to celebrate this being the same day as HM The Queen. Basil was a very faithful man to his family, to the countryside, the community and to his country. Basil served in the army all the last war and beyond in the Royal Hampshire Regiment, 4th Battalion, being de-mobbed in 1946. His service took him to the North African desert, the battle of Mount Casino in Italy and lastly for some time in Crete where he fought terrorists after the war ended. It was always interesting to hear him tell his war stories.

Basil was born and brought up at Hill Farm, Friday Street; moving to Chestnut Tree Farm on the death of his grandmother, the farms having been in the Norman family for at least four generations. He was a great countryman, a custodian of the farm knowing every tree and hedgerow as he worked closely with nature. How he loved his hens, the ponies and even to keep his old farm machines. He was greatly loved as a good father, grandfather and friend; good and interesting company. We thank God for Basil's life. May he rest in peace.

There will be a funeral, service of thanksgiving for Basil's life, followed by interment, at All Saints' Church, Brandeston on Thursday 4th September at 2.00pm.

We send our sympathy, love and prayers to Heather, Daniel, Sarah, Holly and Tom. God bless you and bring you comfort. GV

PAST EVENTS

AN AMERICAN IN BRANDESTON

Many of you, especially those who frequently sample the delights of The Queen's Head hostelry, will have met Doug and Rosie Toenjes - our own Americans in Brandeston. Though many of today's Americans are descendants from an original European stock, over the span of the last two centuries some marked differences in culture, family roots and customs have become evident between our countries.

In Doug's own particular case, his original French ancestry became intertwined with a refreshing mix of native American Cherokee Indian. It is surely this unique blend that has made Doug - (known affectionately as "T.J.") - the most likeable, friendly and interesting personality that he is today.

Doug decided that he would like to demonstrate some of the differences between our two cultures in Brandeston Village Hall on Thursday, 9th April, 2009. Ignoring the traditional delights of pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, "T.J." decided that, as HM the Queen was undertaking a distribution of Maundy Money in Bury St. Edmunds, he would offer the good citizens of Brandeston his own American-style pancakes. These were individually served with a choice of apple, blueberry or cherry fillings with additional lashings of Maple Syrup for those, like me, who were not counting their calories.

The whole morning was an outstanding success, with Doug slaving away over a hot stove from early on Coffee Morning until midday. Many satisfied customers came back for more and the whole amusing exercise - though hard work - raised £60 towards Coffee Morning funds.

On behalf of all those who sampled his American -style pancakes, I would like to thank Doug for his sterling efforts to increase Village Hall funds whilst bringing a little taste of America to Brandeston.

I am sure that his French ancestors would have commented - "Vive la Difference".

EASTEN ANGLES – “RETURN TO AKENFIELD” - 12th May

Again, Easten Angles sold out the Hall for this years Village Tour, “Return to Akenfield”. Performed by just 5 actors, the story of “Akenfield”, 40 years on from Ronald Blythe’s original book, was brought to life. It showed how present day villagers are contending with the demands of the 21st century. The actors spent all evening ‘on stage’ and were brilliant in depicting over 20 villagers, just with a change of hairstyle, accent or a different item of clothing. It was a very thought-provoking, poignant and funny evening, especially with Richard Earls’ portrayal of Chris Clarke, who was in the audience with his wife, Faye!

A bonus was the £216.50 made for the Hall funds.

ROGATION SUNDAY

The Rogation Sunday service on 17th May was held firstly in church, then to the fields and the final hymn and prayers took place in the marquee at Church Farm. The service was very well attended by both Brandeston and Kettleburgh parishioners and ended with a welcome cup of tea and delicious sandwiches and cakes. As usual on Rogation Sunday the weather did us no favours...an hour before the service the marquee was being strapped to two trees in the garden to prevent it being blown down in a very blustery wind. Our very grateful thanks to all those who helped with the marquee and providing the refreshments.

SUFFOLK SHOW 2009

CONGRATULATIONS! To John Bater who was presented with an award by the Duke of Kent for his "Outstanding Contribution to Agriculture in Suffolk". The award is given by the Suffolk Agricultural Association. John deserved this because he was faithful to the Suffolk Show, having been a steward for 54 years; firstly as Grandstand Steward, then finally in charge of the sheep classes.

John began with the show when he was farming at Bucklesham Hall and was a member of the Melton Young Farmers' Club; he had been invited to the show by Alfred Adams, the show director and well known farmer of the day. John and Anne moved to Church Farm, Kettleburgh, in 1962 where they have farmed ever since, also being faithful, strong members of the church and community; we too are very grateful to them.

Others who joined the show with John were Guy Hayward (he has a large farm at Wickham Market) and Tony Flick (land agent), but they were put on the lesser job of car parking! I am told John has used the same bowler hat throughout! Not bad. We hope, John, you will continue to enjoy the show with Anne, but perhaps now in a more relaxed way.

CONGRATULATIONS! To Brian Capon who was presented with a long service award by the Duke of Kent as he has worked for Kerr Farms for over 30 years. Brian lived in Letheringham for many years and is renowned in the local villages for his skilful hedge-cutting and his expertise with the tractor, in all farm work. Brian is unwell at the moment so we wish him a speedy recovery.

CONGRATULATIONS! To Bruce Kerr for winning first prize in the Suffolk Farms Competition in the category for large farms. This is a great credit to all aspects of the Kerr Farms organisation - including Suffolk foals Alex and Roy. Well done!

Graham Vellacott

CONGRATULATIONS to the "poppy ladies" who have recently received the following awards:

Brenda Martin and Ruth Risk 10 year certificates, Jane O'Leary and Margaret Meadows 20 year badges and Mary Moore a 50 year clasp to John Bater, who, in the category "Open Award for Outstanding Services to Agriculture in Suffolk" received a certificate from the Duke of Kent at the Suffolk Show....for 53 years stewarding at the Suffolk Show on the Grandstand, Outdoor Life/WildLife and in the Sheep areas. He can now throw away his bowler hat....

KETTLEBURGH FUN DOG SHOW - 31 May

This event was held for the second time on the village green with glorious sunshine. We were delighted by the amount of people who came to support us; some who came very early to get a good spot!! The whole afternoon was extremely busy and the Judges; Louise Keeble our local vet and Martin Myers-Allen, Headmaster of Brandeston Hall School, worked hard to achieve the best winners for the 10 fun classes. We had some great sponsors for all the prizes, in particular Bridge Street Pet Shop which sponsored our new class "Kettleburgh Dog of the Year" by supplying an engraved brass tag together with a collar. The tea & home-made cakes were excellent and were pretty much sold out.

Our event was also supported by Emma Smith and her agility team of dogs showing their display of skills, as well as giving dog owners a chance to have-a-go with their pets. The pet groomer, Emma Bilsberry was kept busy, as were the doggy stalls and ice creams. As always, without the help we received, the Kettleburgh Green Trust could not have been such a success. Thank you to everyone who was involved (too many to name). £503.00 has been raised to continue to care for your village green.

KETTLEBURGH FETE

Once again we had a really good time at the fete this year, with the weather being exceptional and hundreds turning out, including Matt and Simon from Radio Suffolk (Sundays at 2.00pm). A feature from Kettleburgh fete is due to appear soon in their programme, if not already by the time this goes to print.

Thanks to everyone who helped set up on Friday evening and Saturday morning, who worked during the fete and who helped clear up Saturday evening and Sunday morning. Can we say thank you for your donations of goods, time, labour, and money.

A special thanks to Ron and Debbie, at The Chequers, for letting us hold the fete in their gardens once again. The amount raised was £3136.39 to be divided between The Village Hall and The Church Fabric Fund

Thanks again to all who helped.

BRANDESTON FETE

Waking up to grey, overcast skies and threatening winds, we feared a repeat of last year's fete weekend when a tent was destroyed. The heavy downpour just as we had all set up our stalls didn't raise our spirits either but we needn't have worried. Our loyal supporters turned out in droves and within minutes, the Queen's Head gardens were thronged with people vying to buy the best bargains.

And what wonderful stock we had this year: loads of plants, outsize meringues, elegant muffins, freshly baked bread and outstanding fruit cakes (that would have been perfectly at home in any French patisserie), the piled high table of bric-a-brac plus ladies' and men's accessories, loads of good quality books and lots of other things.

No fete is complete without its competitive games and Peter Arbon was in a prime position with his bowling game, ably assisted for the first time by his young apprentice, Don Evans. Anna Carr once again ran the children's races.

In short, the fete had something for people of all ages whether it was the stalls, the games, the food, the teas or the musicians from Brandeston School under the direction of Rob Rogers.

Martin Myers-Allen, the head of Brandeston Hall, opened the fete in the rain and Eileen Leach, an Elder of All Saints closed it in the sunshine.

At the end of the afternoon we had raised the impressive sum of £4287.05 to be shared between All Saints and the village hall. We should all be proud of ourselves for our efforts towards producing this amount of money, not only those who manned the stalls but those who planned and choreographed the event, ferried tables and set up marquees (and dismantled them on Monday).

Darryl Morgan

Congratulations! To everyone who was involved in this year's fete, a very happy and successful occasion, a gathering together of the community. Our thanks to so many people, it is difficult to name all, as we remember stall-holders, those who gave all sorts, draw, produce/plants, ice creams, teas and ... and thank you all. The venue was great and a great stimulant to the success – our enormous thanks to Alan, Jane and their staff for this venue and all the effort they put in. See this excerpt from the EADT and enjoy it.

Community joy at fete's success

Villagers turned out in force to enjoy family fun at a fete to raise funds for their church and village hall.

The weekend event at the Queen's Head in Brandeston featured plenty to do and ran alongside a mini beer festival.

In addition to the traditional fete entertainment of stalls and games, there was also a hog roast and jazz band.

Pub landlord Alan Randall said everyone wanted to pull together and help two good causes - and it is hoped to have raised a record £4,000.

"It has been an absolutely fabulous weekend and we have had an amazing turn-out," he said.

"The stallholders were saying that they were up on last year and last year was up on the year before, which is really encouraging.

"People enjoyed the beer festival, too – we were quite wise with our selection and we didn't have too many bizarre ones to frighten people away.

“This year has been especially difficult for everyone – and it is in these times of hardship that we see the community pulling together, and we just wanted to have lots of fun and raise some money at the same time for the village hall and church fabric fund.”

CHEESE & WINE EXPERIENCE – SOLD OUT

“What a fantastic evening.....” “Worth every Penny..... “

Just a couple of reviews received about the evening, held on 20th September in the Village Hall.

This event was sponsored by Hamish Johnston, who supplied delicious cheeses for tasting and Timothy Wood who offered excellent wines to compliment them. They both entertained us with their attention to detail and we have no doubt that everyone took home with them a wider knowledge of how unusual cheese & wines work so well together.

A beautiful supper was set and kindly donated by Eiluned Davies and this was followed by a super raffle and an exciting auction which included a holiday at Le Moulin in Normandy donated by David & Katie Harris, a limited edition print by Sue Scott, jewellery by Deborah Thomas and 6 tickets for the first performance of Babes in the Wood at the Seckford Theatre, donated by Eiluned Davies.

This event was not possible without the help of Maggie Meadows, Pat Peck and George Payne who worked continuously in and out of the kitchen and Mark Donsworth who was the perfect auctioneer.

It was a pleasure to hold such a special event for the Trust and we can report that just under £1800 was raised to support the continual maintenance of the green.

Thank You

Kettleburgh Harvest Celebrations

Our Harvest celebrations took place this year on 12th October. St Andrew’s Church was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers, fruit and produce – did anyone notice the small mouse that had crept amongst the decorations in the children’s corner? The service on Sunday evening was well attended, and followed the traditional pattern where gifts of grain, bread, fruit, vegetables and dairy produce were presented as symbols of our thankfulness for God’s provision to us. We sang Harvest hymns, working up an appetite for the supper which followed in the Village Hall. The menu was soup (two varieties), jacket potatoes with cheese and a wide choice of salads and relishes, followed by not only apple pies, but also some delicious fruit based cakes and puddings. Thanks to everyone who provided food, decorated the tables with flowers, helped with the setting out of the hall and the washing up, and also those who helped to clear the hall of all its furniture and fittings, ready for the refurbishment of the floor.

COME ALONG AND EXERCISE FOR HEALTH!

Chair-based exercise classes take place all across the county and are organised under the Healthy Ambitions Suffolk banner by NHS Suffolk, the district and county councils and Sport England.

As well as helping to improve older people's mobility, balance and strength, the classes can help prevent them from suffering a fall, which can seriously affect both confidence levels and independence.

Diana Russell, who is 87-years-old and has been attending a weekly class close to her home in Aldeburgh for the last year, said: "We do a lot of exercises while sitting down and work on things for balance and exercises for the hands and pelvis.

"It has made a lot of difference to me – my mobility isn't very good but I now find walking better. I also have arthritis in my hands and it has been especially helpful for that. "I have recommended it to other people as everyone who does the class really appreciates it. Its also nice as it helps you to stay independent."

Amanda Mallett, a personal trainer who runs exercise for health classes in the Aldeburgh area, specially tailors each session depending on the abilities of those who attend.

She said: "We lay on a variety of exercise from both standing and sitting positions to make sure everybody can get the greatest benefit.

"Some of the people start coming to the classes after suffering a fall, and you can really notice the difference in them. They are much more upright and you can almost see their confidence building in front of your eyes. It's really rewarding from my point of view when those taking part tell you they're feeling a lot better and their aches and pains are easing.

"Anyone is welcome to come along and attend the classes, which are also a great opportunity to make new friends and socialise."

The classes are specifically aimed at one of the Healthy Ambitions Suffolk initiative's main target groups – older people. It is hoped that by encouraging this age group to stay active, they will maintain their independence, health and wellbeing into the future.

Sally Hogg, head of health improvement partnerships for NHS Suffolk, said: "Falling and fear of falling is a serious issue for older people. As well as knocking their confidence it can lead to isolation and loss of independence.

"That's why helping older people to lead an active, healthy lifestyle forms a key part of the Healthy Ambitions Suffolk initiative. We want to raise awareness of the fact there is help out there and that these classes can really help improve stability, mobility and flexibility.”

Classes are held at village halls, community centres and sheltered housing schemes across Suffolk. For information on finding your nearest class, call InfoLink on 01473 265265. Alternatively, information is also available at www.suffolk.gov.uk/informationonprescription. Healthy Ambitions Suffolk is also interested in hearing from anyone who would like to become an instructor and run their own classes. Anyone interested will be given all the training and can find out more by contacting Olive Quinton on 07984 613 808.

COLD CALLERS

Suffolk Police and Suffolk Trading Standards are warning people to be on their guard for companies that target the vulnerable by cold-calling for the purpose of selling mobility equipment. These calls are often followed by a personal visit from a salesperson who uses hard-sell techniques to persuade the customer to buy mobility aids that they might not want.

For further advice or anyone who feels that they might be a victim of this type of sales technique, please contact Suffolk Trading Standards on 0845 4040506.

- isNEWS FROM EASTON HARRIERS

With the cooler nights and days of autumn, we are reminded that the hunting season has arrived - well almost. A chat with Adrian Robinson soon brings out the enthusiasm he and the hunt have for the coming season and for the future of Easton Harriers. We welcome Adrian, the new Huntsman, into the village with his partner Hannah and their six month old daughter Myrtle. Adrian comes to us from Hertfordshire. He has hunted the Airedale Beagles, the Aldenham Harriers and the Modbury Harriers. Hannah is from Devon with a degree in English from Exeter University. It is so good to have the fun and laughter of children back at the Kennels after several years' absence. We hope and pray that the family will be very happy in Easton.

The hounds are in good shape, twenty-five couple, and have started early morning hunting (7 am to 9 am) already. The 'hunting' is really trail hunting, where a competent rider (usually Sue List) goes across country with a bag of strong smell an hour so before the hounds are let loose. This is an exciting way to ride in the countryside, requiring much skill to keep the hounds on course. The Acting Joint Masters are Rob Haag and Lydia Harvey, both of these masters are very experienced, having hunted with the Easton Harriers for many years.

The Puppy Show held at the Kennels on 6th July - an annual event - on a wet Sunday afternoon, was a great success and a boost to the start of the season. Those people who had walked hounds brought them to be judged. The top dog hound was "Fiddler", walked by Mr and Mrs Gordon Grover, with the top bitch being "Fanfare", walked by Mr and Mrs Adam Signy. Janet Baxter and her helpers put on a great tea party enjoyed by many people - thank you.

We wish the hunt well for a good 2008/9 season.

The Opening Meet will be on 1st November 2008 at The Old Mill House, Saxtead Green, at 11.30 am. Everyone is welcome.

Good hunting!

BRANDESTON CHURCHYARD – A NEW SEAT

We are very grateful for the gift of a fine, English oak seat given in memory of the Gallienne family who lived at Brook Farm from the start of the last war. The seat has been given by Rose and Francois Blancpain, and their daughter Lizzie, who live in Switzerland, who are nieces of this older generation. There is a brass plate on the seat which bears these words: In memory, John Arthur and Freda Gallienne of Brook Farm Kettleburgh and their children Elizabeth, Jack and Collinette.

Many of us will remember Collinette who, once her parents left Brook Farm, set up riding stables near the sand pit in Kettleburgh; children were often seen riding her ponies about the lanes.

The seat is positioned at the top of the churchyard with its back to the wall, under and between the trees, about equidistant from the church notice-board and the War Memorial. We are grateful to Chris McArthur and John Garratt who have securely fixed it to the ground.

We just hope that this seat may be a place where anyone can go to relax, find peace and quiet as they look over the River Deben and beyond to the rolling meadows.
Thank you again, the Blancpain family; we hope you will come and visit Brandeston.

BRANDESTON PARISH PLAN

The Parish Plan has been completed and viewed by the Parish Council, and is now (12/10/2008) in the process of being printed. On receipt of the bound version, a copy will be distributed to each household in Brandeston. The full report is in two sections; i.e. the main document which is the one to be widely distributed, and an Appendix which contains the full data derived from the Questionnaire but which will be available centrally because of its size in the foyer of the village hall, on the Brandeston website and through the Parish Council.

CAN YOU HELP?

Does anyone have a spare Burco Boiler? I use it to cook barley for the horses, but my old one is on the blink. Hoping that someone has one in a shed!

If so, please contact Lydia Harvey at Oak Farm, Brandeston, on 684025

TIMES PAST

Those who have seen 'The Other Boleyn Girl', a recent film which was also viewed at Brandeston Film Club last month, have been reminded of the years of Henry VIII this reign. It was based on a book by Philippa Gregory.

In St Michael's Church, Framlingham is the tomb of Henry Howard, Earl of Surrey, 1517 – 1547. He was a poet, military commander and expert in the tilt yard; the last victim of Henry Tudor, beheaded at thirty. Heir to the third Duke of Norfolk, he was also a first cousin of the Boleyn sisters.

Surrey's verses are some of the most beautiful written in the English language and his sonnets were famous. Here is one of them.

Description of Spring

Wherein each thing renews, save only the Lover.

The sweet season, that bud and bloom forth brings,
 With green hath clad the hill and eke¹ the vale:
 The nightingale with feathers new she sings;
 The turtle² to her mate hath told her tale.
 Summer is come, for every spray now springs:
 The hart hath hung his old head on the pale;
 The buck in brake his winter coat he flings:
 The fishes sleet with new repaired scale.
 The adder all her slough away she slings:
 The swift swallow puroueth the flies smale³;
 The busy bee her honey now she mings⁴:
 Winter is worn that was the flowers' bale⁵.
 And thus I see among these pleasant things
 Each care decays, and yet my sorrow springs.

TIMES PAST

Once more, at our War Memorials 90 years after the ending of the Great War, we think of those whose lives were cut short by that 4 year tragedy and by the Second World War together with other military engagements. Not a great deal is known about Edwin Arthur Bilney who was born at 19 Low Street, Brandeston in 1893. He was the eldest son of Arthur, gardener for 50 years at Brandeston Hall, and Mary, his wife (née Wardley). Edwin was baptised at All Saints, he attended the village school and continued to live at home until the war started.

After enlisting at Ipswich as Private 2975, 4th Battalion of the Suffolk Regiment, he was sent to France and Flanders. Sadly he died of wounds at the Clearing Hospital of the British Expeditionary Force on May 17th 1915, aged 21.

It is well nigh impossible to imagine the grief suffered by families at this time. Those who dwelt in the three cottages, 18, 19 and 20, Low Street, now the home of Peter and Sue Thurlow, experienced the death of 4 young men during those terrible years.

By contrast Horace George Walne came from a farming family that had settled at Kettleburgh Hall in 1891. After finishing his boarding school education he entered the Ipswich engineering firm of E.R. and F. Turner. Some years before the outbreak of war he joined the Suffolk yeomanry,

(the Duke of York's own Royal Suffolk Hussars). After mobilisation in 1914 he was sent to Gallipoli and then Egypt.

When his time expired in April 1916 Horace returned home and after a month re-enlisted to be sent to a Cadet Battalion in Scotland. On gaining a Commission in October 1916 he was posted to France as a Second Lieutenant in the 2nd Battalion of the Suffolk Regiment.

On April 11th 1917 at Wancourt during the Battle of Arras, (the 1st Battle of the Scarpe), whilst the Battalion were assembling for an attack, the enemy opened fire, Horace was struck by a shell and killed at once. His Commanding Officer, Lieut. Col. G.C. Stubbs, wrote that he was one of the best officers, very gallant and would have been promoted to command a Company. Another officer stated that he was one of the bravest and most loveable of men, fearless and reliable. 'Shells never seemed to have the slightest effect on him and we always used to look on him as a fire-eater. He was liked by all because of his quiet, unassuming way.

Horace Walne, aged 27 is interred in the Tilloy British Cemetery, Pas de Calais. There is a memorial to him on the south chancel arch, facing west of St Andrew's Church, Kettleburgh.

We have pictures of these two soldiers resting places but if anyone plans to visit war graves please let me know. Photographs are still needed to cover some men of our villages killed in the wars.
