Happy Easter

THE PARISHES OF BRANDESTON AND KETTLEBURGH

Dear Friends,

As I write this on St. Valentine's Day the view from my study window is of a grey and damp morning...the snow all now melted.

After a long cold winter how we all long for the Spring and some sunshine!

The season of Lent began yesterday, mirroring a longing for Easter and the new life of the risen Christ.

Lent is a wonderful time of preparation. A time to examine our priorities, and 'Spring Clean' our souls. The lack of flowers in our Churches, and the somber colour of purple are real reminders that Lent beckons us to a new seriousness of purpose in our discipleship.

But let the last word be with St. Benedict who reminds us that there is always 'joy' in that discipleship:

'In these days, therefore, let us add something beyond the wonted measure of our service, such as private prayers and abstinence in food and drink. Let each one, over and above the measure prescribed for him, offer God something of his own free will in the joy of the Holy Spirit.'

So may you have a joyous Lent and a doubly joyous Easter!

With love,

Harry Edwards.

LENT COURSE 2013 - 'Desert Island Discs'

Continues at Hacheston Village Hall for the next sessions, that is Mar 3rd and Mar 10th (and possibly 17th subject to demand and lots of unplayed musical choices).

The format is that a number of people around our parishes have already been asked to choose some music and to talk for a few minutes in a conversation with Harry about why it is significant to them, and how it speaks to their life and faith experiences. We will then listen to the track and have time for discussion before the next person. We have invited a wide cross section of people so we can expect to get a few surprises in musical content, and a very varied selection. Anyone planning to attend, even if it's only for one session is welcome to bring a CD with them and we'll include as many as we have time for. So do come and join in, with any session or all of them.

BRANDESTON WHIST DRIVE - FRIDAY, 29TH MARCH 2013 AT BRANDESTON VILLAGE HALL

The next Whist Drive will be held in Brandeston Village Hall on Friday, 29th March, 2013. Doors will open at 6.30 p.m. to enable a prompt start to play at 7.00 p.m.

There will be a great selection of good, locally-produced food available together with a choice of fine wines in order to ensure that the evening goes with a swing. The inclusive cost of the evening remains at just £2.50 per person. This is payable at the door.

If you would like to attend, please call Pam or Rick Reade on 685920 to book a place. The increasing popularity of our Whist Drive means that we have now to reserve places on a first-come - first served basis as the number of tables are limited. The advance notice also helps us to plan the number of tables needed and the amount of food and drink required.

The Long Life & Great Good Fortune of John Clare

Brandeston Village Hall, Thursday 25th April 7.30pm, Phone 01728 685655

Ticket price £8 (£7 for concessions). This play will appeal to audiences aged 12 plus.

The Long Life and Great Good Fortune of John Clare is a ninety minute play, which explores the facts and myths about the life and health of England's most loved 'peasant poet'. "John" is in a secure unit and believes he is John Clare. His psychiatrist, Amita, is swotting up on the history of the poet trying to fathom the reasons behind her patient's delusion. Meanwhile, Amita's partner, writer and literature graduate Rafe, clings to his own version of the Clare legend. In their search for the real story all three characters reveal some startling truths about themselves. In Tony Ramsay's play, a new John Clare emerges, set free from the story of his life.

The play is directed by Ivan Cutting, Eastern Angles' Artistic Director, whose previous shows (as director) for the company include Margaret Catchpole, Round the Twist and Up Out o' the Sea.

NOTICES

THANK YOU

Could I say thank you to the person or people who gritted the bottom of Church Road in the recent snowy weather. It made such a difference to be able to stop at the junction on the way down and to be confident of not sliding about on the way up! It was much appreciated.

ST ELIZABETH HOSPICE'S MIDNIGHT WALK OR RUN – welcoming men and women!

St Elizabeth Hospice's high-profile ladies-only fundraising Midnight Walk is to break new ground by allowing men to take part. The Midnight Walk 2013 will welcome men and also offer a night-time run through Ipswich town centre.

The new-style event – which is the charity's biggest fundraiser of the year - will be held on Saturday 18th May 2013 and starts from Ipswich Town Football Club. More than 220 men and women have already signed up but there is still time to register.

There will be two routes to choose from – eight or five miles – a carnival theme, exciting warm-up and a hot chocolate and medal at the end for all participants.

Many people take part in groups as a fitness challenge, in memory of a loved one or just to have fun night out. The Midnight Walk 2013 offers the only opportunity to take part in mass participation run at night around Ipswich.

All participants are asked to raise sponsorship.

The Hospice provides services free of charge to patients and their families in East Suffolk and South East Norfolk and relies on fundraising and donations to meet most of its £8.7m a year running costs.

To sign up visit www.midnightwalkipswich.co.uk.

Midnight Walk 2013 is supported by the East Anglian Daily Times, Ipswich Star and Town 102.

FRAMLINGHAM MEDICAL PRACTICE

Our Patient Survey gave our GPs and nurses a big 'thumbs-up' in terms of the treatment, care and support that most of you feel you receive when consulting at the practice. Overall the practice scored very highly in its patient satisfaction scores. The survey highlighted improvements that could be made to our waiting area which we will consider very carefully.

Our Patient Representative Group considered the results and felt that it might be helpful if patients were made aware of the following:

- We have removed a number of the toys for children in the waiting area because of concerns about cross infection. We hope that parents will support this.
- There are increasing problems nationally with obtaining a number of prescription medications. If we are unable to get an item for you this is not because our dispensers haven't ordered them – it is because we are having to track down a supplier.
- Our receptionists are asking if your request for an appointment can be dealt with by a Nurse Practitioner. This is because many problems that used to be seen by a GP can be dealt with by our Nurse Practitioner Janet Walne. Janet can deal with many minor illnesses and injuries and is able to prescribe. She can also get quick access to a doctor if she needs to. We hope that patients will understand that our reception team have been asked by the doctors to ask for extra information and they of course treat any information provided in the strictest confidence.
- Finally, we know it is sometimes not easy to get a convenient appointment time. Our GPs are happy to telephone you back if you think that telephone advice would be helpful to you. Just ask our receptionists to leave a message with your GP and you will be called back later in the day.

The full results of our survey are available on our website. If you are interested in joining the Patient Representative Group please do get in touch – they are a friendly bunch and meet twice a year.

We have almost 100 'home from hospital' volunteers, offering home visits to vulnerable people after a stay in hospital. They work from Ipswich and James Paget hospitals. If you would like help from the home from hospital team or to volunteer a couple of hours a week please call 01473 702 485.

The East Suffolk Fire and Emergency Support Team attended three night-time house fires between Christmas and New-year, providing a refuge for families whilst the emergency services were in attendance. To volunteer with this vital (FESS) team call 01473 219260. The FESS team were also out on the Suffolk streets with blankets and help for homeless people during the bitterly cold weather in December and January.

Look out for the new Red Cross Open Gardens leaflet at libraries and tourist information centres. We've many new gardens to visit across Suffolk- so do join us for flowers, tea and cake.

Red Cross Week is May 5th-12th - please help us to raise £15,000 in Suffolk by holding a pub quiz, putting a collection can in your local shop or even jumping out of a plane.

If you would like me to talk to your local group about the work of the Red Cross (or for anything else) contact Jane Dow on 01284 727247.

TIMES PAST

This month we are going to travel a little further away from our two villages to consider a book, “The Hidden history of Orfordness” by Paddy Heazell published in 2010. The War Office procured Orford Ness early in 1914. Consequently it played a key role in the three great conflicts of the 20th century; the First and Second World Wars and the Cold War. Links with the birth of radar, vulnerability of gas turbine engines, earthquake bombs and ballistic tests of early nuclear weapons came into the picture too. Since 1993 when the National trust bought the site, which was opened to the public in 1995, it has changed into a growing nature reserve, the last coastal wilderness in Southern England and ‘the largest vegetated single spit in Europe.’ The area contains a variety of habitats for breeding and passage birds, some of which are nationally rare. There is a unique feature of ridge and furrows in the shingle beach which appear ...’to have had a giant’s comb dragged lengthwise along it, the product of wild storms over the centuries...’ It is a place of magic and unmatched beauty, the inspiration for artists, writers and photographers. It has also stimulated other authors over the years, including the thriller writer Richard Keverne, who produced ‘The Havering Plot’ in 1938 and W.G. Sebald, who wrote ‘The Rings of Saturn’ in 1992. Military pagodas still dominate the skyline and historical memorabilia is available to those interested.
